La Oportunidad is a community outreach program in the West District of the United Methodist Church ministering with some of the most vulnerable residents of the MacArthur Park and Westlake regions of Los Angeles. La Oportunidad provides food, clothing, a safe drop-in center, twelve step programs, and social service referrals to people who are experiencing homelessness, who are struggling with addiction and mental illness, who might be undocumented, and who are often part of the LGBT community. La Oportunidad is currently developing an economic incubator program called Voces de Esperanza to assist its clients in becoming financially independent and self-supporting.
